

Contained Currents, Earthbound Memory (2026) Vitrified kiln fired clay, slip paint, capacitors, glass beads, computer chips, light emitting diodes, coated wire. 37 x 9 x 20 cm. Collection of the Artist.

Contained Currents, Earthbound Memory speaks to the power of the land as a living entity constantly emitting power and energy, since time immemorial. The land is not in a stasis but is in constant flux and conscious of the impact inflicted due to climate change and resource extraction resulting in environmental devastation to our interconnected eco-system. Whatever path we choose to take, the land will remember.
